

Build: Application can be built with Microsoft VS.

Implementation: All functionalities relating to image files (read image files, combine two images) will be done by PhotoManager class, with the support of opencv and filesystem library. The Menu class, which is the user interface, takes commands from user and control the PhotoManager object inside it properly.

Third-party dependencies: opencv and filesystem library.

Possible known issues: currently can not combine more than two images.